
Create Your Relational Map

On your Relational Map, write your name in the middle circle; then in the gray circles connected to you, write in the places you frequent. After identifying various places you go to regularly, ask God to bring to mind a few specific people in each of those places that He wants you to connect with. As He gives you these names, write them in the circles connected to the places you go. In this way, you will be forming your Relational Map.
